ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Mark R. Haley has created software which uniquely converts text from any language into realistically sounding human speech in any language on any device such as off-the self computers (or servers) and it has the option to show related videos and photos (or any multimedia) which is associated with that text.